Can Anyone Lobtail?

Step 1

Fold the blue paper in half. Fold the top half again, lining the layers, trim the top edge of the folded paper to resemble a bird. Cutting through all the bold lines. You will end up with four shaped cutouts, four each titled paragraph. Glue the tab of the paragraph in the first section of your blue paper. Glue the tab of the shaped cutout to the back of the section as is self-standing.

Student directions:

On the booklet page, write your name in the blank and color the title “Why Do Whales Spout Off?” and its corresponding waves. Unfold the paper and set it aside.

When the glue has dried, refold the resulting booklet. Then partially unfold the booklet so that it is self-standing.
